“ Despite having a wealth of financial experts employed within our business, we still find that Celerica are able to add value with their advice. ”

“The practice operates very efficiently and delivers all of its services in an expeditious manner. The directors and the staff are friendly and approachable offering advice in a step by step manner without accountancy jargon.

When the company was experiencing difficulties, it was evident that rather than keeping away from such problems, the director was here on a more regular basis, negotiating with the bank and providing management assistance. The practice understands our business very well and is able to provide excellent advice on how we can restructure the accounts.

Our finance team has developed itself internally with regular advice from Celerica. Although this has meant that we have required less service from them, this was one of the key goals they had set for us.

Celerica have provided excellent personal advice in respect of personal and company cars. This has developed a change in the company strategy for vehicles. Generally, we find it reassuring that Celerica have continuously been there for us (be it for business or personal finance matters).”

“ Celerica have enabled us to take so much of the reporting that used to be done externally, in house.

Thereby saving the company thousands of pounds. ”
